

Enemies

Asteriux du'Clement (Human Bard - plays a golden fiddle)

Background: esteemed wealthy musician who travels throughout the land

Famous Song: Dance of Western Sea

Schmoop Connection:

Schmoop in a tavern hearing a toe-tapping fiddle song bops and fluoresces to the music like a strange lava lamp. Cassiopeia's violin being the first instrument he heard significantly, he is drawn towards the rhythmic source. Encroaching from behind, Schmoop peaks up behind like a cobra in a basket and leans over Asteriux's shoulder still bopping along and re-shaping to be like a gelatinous cape on his back. Asteriux, noticing the weight turned to see Schmoop's false face with a blank smile staring at him, jumps in the air with an abrupt music cut and viciously shrieks, "blithering clinging puddle of chromatic dragon bile!".

Unnamed Alchemist Wizard (Gnome)

Unlikely to be seen in Eusia (presumably), but a significant character in Schmoop's early backstory.

Schmoop Connection:

The one who collected Schmoop when he was separated from his home clan and performed research on the plasmoid. See Schmoop's Backstory (Unknown Sample)
